Mrs. A. W. Waln, residing in the extreme southern part of the county, holds a remarkable record as a Sunday School teacher. She has taught various classes in the Methodist Church at New Martinsburg for nearly 46 years.

She started teaching a Sunday School class at the age of 17 years, and has taught consistently since that time. Only illness or absence from the community prevented her from being at the church each Sunday and conducting her class.

At the present time Mrs. Waln teaches the Women's Bible class at the New Martinsburg church.

"I love to teach and always get a great deal of enjoyment out of the work," said Mrs. Waln recently while discussing her long service as a religious teacher.

Remember those days when the D. T. & I. Railroad ran four passenger trains daily, except Sunday, with Sunday excursions to Jackson, Springfield and other points part of the time?

Apparently those days are gone forever, but you will be interested in knowing that passenger traffic on the D. T. & I., like it has been on all other roads, has shown a pronounced pick-up during the last two years.

The only passenger service the D. T. & I. has maintained during many years has been in connection with a local freight, which reaches this city from Jackson at 11:45 A M. each morning, except Sunday and returns from Springfield at 3:40 P. M.

Until passenger traffic picked up during the past two years, one coach and part of the time a combination coach was operated.

Then a full coach was devoted to passengers.

This is still done except on Saturdays and Mondays, when it is necessary to use two coaches to accommodate the large number of passengers.

While many of those using the cars are employed here or elsewhere, a surprisingly large number of people from Jackson and all intermediate points, come to Washington C. H. to do their buying and if you don't believe this is true, take a look at the package-carrying passengers who board the south-bound train, particularly on Saturdays.

Incidentally, the route from Jackson to Greenfield is one of the most scenic of any railroad in Ohio and that view at horseshoe bend, Spargursville and thence to the Summit, is extraordinary to say the least and worth a trip over the road to see.

RADIO GAG WANTED BY SENATOR WHEELER

One-sided Propaganda Is Charged Big Chains

WASHINGTON, May 4—(AP)—Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) said today big radio chains are carrying "one-sided propaganda" on international and national issues. He added that if they did not voluntarily begin carrying both sides he would introduce legislation requiring them to do so.

Wheeler added that he agreed with Senator Taft (R-Ohio) who protested in the Senate yesterday against what he called state department "super-propaganda." Asserting it was aimed at influencing congress in behalf of Dumbarton Oaks, Bretton Woods and reciprocal trades measures, Taft added that money thus spent was in violation of appropriations laws.

"I object," Taft said, "to them furnishing a strongly partisan argument without giving the other side."

GREAT LAKES VESSELS TRAFFIC INCREASING

CLEVELAND, May 4—(AP)—Harbormaster Henry Silverthorn reported yesterday that 221 Great Lakes commercial vessels arrived in Cleveland last month, compared with 189 in the same period of 1944. A total of 241 ships left the port during the month, compared with 222 in April last

ALLIED SUCCESS GETS NEW JAP PREMIER IN BAD

Chinese Open New Drive as Nips Beaten Out of Burma; Okinawa Still Tough

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
By the Associated Press

A general Chinese counter-offensive to rout a four-pronged threat to the U. S. Chihkiang Airbase threw Japanese armies into reverse on every front today.

Japanese reverses were so widespread that the month-old cabinet of Premier Baron Adm. Kantaro Suzuki was subjected to the same type of criticism by Tokyo newspapers that preceded the downfall of previous Nipponese war governments.

One city was recaptured and 3,000 Nipponese killed in the initial thrust by Chinese including American-equipped airborne troops. Japanese had driven to within 70 miles of the U. S. 14th Airforce base, 250 miles southeast of Chungking.

Only minor gains were reported against the heavily fortified Naha line in the Okinawa operation which has cost American forces 16,964 casualties, including 2,978 dead. This compares with approximately 21,000 Japanese killed in Okinawa and U. S. casualties 19,938 on Iwo Jima, including 4,189 dead.

American losses were boosted by a new announcement of naval cas-

FALSE PROPAGANDA WARNING BY BISHOP

Atheism in Russia Bringing Third War, He Says

CINCINNATI, May 4.—(AP)—The most Rev. John T. McNicholas, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Cincinnati, told pastors in a letter today: "We must not be deceived by false propaganda that Russia is Democratic.

The letter, directing pastors to ring church bells on the day of victory in Europe, said: "The victory over Nazism and Fascism does not mean the wiping out of totalitarianism. We must know the greatest danger to Russia herself, and the most complete assurance of the third World War, lies in Soviet atheism totalitarianism which probably will spread to many of the war-crushed countries of Europe."

Asserting that even when the armed conflict in Europe is ended sufficient food, clothing and shelter cannot be assured immediately, he concluded: "Conditions in Europe afford no opportunity to the home front for revelry and for indulgence in intoxicating drinks on victory day in Europe."

HIGHWAY CONTRACTS ARE GIVEN APPROVAL

COLUMBUS, O., May 4—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche conferred today with State Highway Director Perry T. Ford over 17 highway contracts, totaling $1,300,000 and said 11 of the contracts appeared to be in order.

He said the other six would be studied further.

The conference was in accordance with the governor's previously announced desire to look over all bids in an effort to prevent collusion among bidders.

Reds Can't Find Hitler's Body

Berlin Still Blazing as Ruins Are Searched

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, May 4.—(AP)—The Chancellery of the Third Reich in the Wilhelmstrasse has failed to yield the body of Hitler and now the building is burning, a Red Star dispatch from the German capital said today.

The disclosure that the Chancellery where Hitler had his offices was ablaze indicated it might be difficult ever to prove that the Fuehrer committed suicide along with Propaganda Minister Goebbels, as the Germans report.

The statement that the bodies were not found in the building, however, indicated that it had been searched, and strengthened the theory that if Hitler did kill himself it was not in the Chancellery.

Soviet correspondents reported how they, with Soviet soldiers, entered the building and found dead German machinegunners with iron crosses.

"Hitler's Chancellery is hot," said a Red Star reporter. "The fire is getting closer. The floor is burning and at any moment will fall. In the smoke and flame it is impossible to see much."

Herman Goering's Air Ministry likewise was ablaze. The dispatch said "it is impossible to get into it, but the gigantic shelter is intact."

Flames still licked at other buildings, and in the Tiergarten trees crackled and swayed in the heat blasts.

Izvestia's correspondent said: "I have been asking the question, 'Where is Hitler?' of German prisoners. They all answer, 'Hitler and Goebbels committed suicide.'"

Red Star correspondents Lt. Cols. Elonid Vysokostrovsky and Pavel Troyanovsky gave graphic

Hopes for V-E Draft Cut Given Sharp Set-Back

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(AP)—Congressional hopes for a sharp cut in Army inductions immediately after V-E Day received a severe jolt today from Gen. George C. Marshall.

Not only will the Army be unable to meet replacement demands for May and June under the present program, the chief of staff told Chairman May (D-Ky) of the House military committee, but the current shortage is expected to be increased "by some 50,000 men over the next three months."

Many congressmen have felt that as soon as Germany falls, Army and Navy manpower needs can be filled by taking only 18-year-olds. This would reduce sharply the current induction rate of around 120,000 men a month.

Within the last week, Marshall wrote May that "General Eisenhower has informed me that his losses are currently averaging 2,000 men daily and he anticipates no reduction in his replacement requirements for June."

"Norway, Denmark and sections of Holland remain unliberated and are occupied by strong and fanatical forces of the enemy . . ." Marshall continued. "It is urgently necessary to start an increased flow of replacements to the Pacific ocean area over and above those required to replace battle losses. Many veteran soldiers have been through several hard-fought campaigns in that area under very trying climatic conditions. We should return these men for release from the Army as quickly as possible. To accomplish this, a pool of replacements must be built up there."

May's committee began closed-door discussions today with military leaders on demobilization and postwar Army plans.

GOVERNOR PROBING GAMBLING QUESTION

COLUMBUS, May 4.—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche met today with city officials of East Liverpool and said he told them "I expect commercial gambling, if it does exist, will be suppressed in that community and that I was especially determined that commercial racketeers not continue in their operations."

Mayor Arnold Devon and Safety Director Vincent McGeehan came here to see the governor after the Columbiana County Grand Jury returned several gambling indictments and directed that the report on prevalence of gambling be sent to the governor.

SECURITY PLAN IS CLEARING UP

Big Four Near Agreement on Charter Changes

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—(AP)—The Big-Four were reported near agreement today on major changes in the Dumbarton Oaks plan for a world organization designed to keep peace.

This accord was regarded by officials of the 46 United Nations in conference here as a long step toward preventing deadlocks even after Foreign Commissar Molotov sets out for Moscow, as he is expected to do next week.

Secretary of State Stettinius has told friends he is extremely pleased with the program made in his talks about amending the Dumbarton Oaks charter with Molotov, Foreign Secretary Eden of Britain and Foreign Minister Soong of China.

There was no evidence that the Big-Four intend to favor any amendments which would alter the basic Dumbarton Oaks idea of concentrating in a security council authority to use armed forces to smack down trouble-making nations of the future.

But there are signs that the council may be permitted to recognize regional defense pacts which automatically would produce help for an attacked nation while the council was going through the process of deciding on longer-range measures.

Three members of the Senate naval committee—Byrd (D-Va), Eastland (D) and Tobey (R-NH)—along with Senator Capehart (R-Ind) presented personally a Big-Four meeting last night their proposals for a trusteeship system which would allow the United States to retain control of strategic islands in the Pacific.

Earlier, Commander Harold E. Stassen of the United States delegation met with representatives of the British, French, Chinese and Russian delegations to seek a formula on territorial trusteeships. He said there may be agreement this week end.

Chief American interest focused on finding a way to allow this country to retain control of military bases built or to be developed on Pacific islands won from Japan with American lives.

PROVINCE'S FATE BRINGS ON FIGHT

ROME, May 4—(AP)—Many persons were badly beaten today in a free-for-all fight between a crowd singing Communist songs and a group of demonstrating Italian soldiers and students who demanded that Italy retain the province of Venezia Giulia.

Tension had spread about Rome over the disposition of the province, which includes the Adriatic ports of Trieste and Fiume and the Peninsula of Istria, following entry by Marshal Tito's Yugoslav troops.

PHILIPPINE RUBBER MAY BE ON WAY SOON

AKRON, May 4.—(AP)—Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. executives are hopeful that Gen. MacArthur's Mindanao campaign may give America its first Philippine rubber since the Japs swung through that territory in the spring of 1942.

The plantation started there in 1928 is small—2,500 acres being the limit permitted by Filipino law—but company officials say it has an annual capacity of close to 2,000,000 pounds of rubber.

WAR'S SHOOTING AND KILLING NOT WHAT FIGHTIN' YANKS WILL REMEMBER AFTERWARD

By REMBERT JAMES

PACIFIC BASE —(AP)— The things that men remember of their months and years in a war zone may puzzle their families and civilian friends back home.

Most of the sights, sounds, smells and incidents they recall best may be only incidentally of the war. The shooting and the killing will be blanked out, and they will talk about such things as:

The kid sailor at Saipan who went aquaplaning behind a Navy communication speed boat among the ships offshore while a terrible battle was going on ashore only a few hundred yards away;

Vice Adm. Richmond Kelly Turner calmly smoking cigarettes on his open flag bridge while Japanese planes soared overhead and dropped bombs in the night at the ships off Saipan;

FORMAL SURRENDER BY GERMANY WOULD BE ONLY HOLLOW GESTURE NOW THAT COUNTRY CONQUERED

Americans Surge Through Brenner Pass To Join Force in Italy While, in North, British Halt Denmark Drive Suddenly; Die-hard Nazis Continue Wild Flight Toward Norway Under Devastating Air Attacks

By The Associated Press

The British drive toward Denmark halted abruptly today just short of the Kiel Canal in Germany, possibly to await the surrender of Nazi troops garrisoned in that kingdom.

Germans continued their chaotic flight tonight from Denmark, whose capitulation may come at any hour according to reports filtering from Copenhagen and Scandinavia.

To the south, the American Seventh Army joined with the Fifth Army at Vipiteno, ten miles inside Italy in the snowy Brenner Pass. Salzburg surrendered unconditionally.

Half a million Germans had surrendered in 48 hours to the British Second Army and at least three attached American divisions in the north.

The Germans who had not surrendered north of fallen Hamburg were in chaotic flight by land and sea toward Norway, where the shadowy Doenitz regime may make its last stand about the bases of the submarines the Admiral once commanded.

DENMARK SURRENDERED

PARIS, May 4—(AP)—Gen. Eisenhower announced today that all enemy forces in Holland and northwestern Germany and Denmark, including Helgoland and the Frisian Islands, have surrendered effective at 8 A. M. (2 A.M., eastern war time) tomorrow.

Planes and tanks and artillery all turned the German flight into a debacle of burning ships and wrecked land transport. Diehard Nazis were driven into the sea.

Virtually all of Germany was conquered. The last Nazi holdings were shrinking pockets, untenable and beyond hope of relief.

Fighting Ends in Holland

The German-controlled Oslo radio in Norway declared that hostilities had ceased in The Netherlands and added that "the armistice offer covers Rotterdam, Amsterdam and The Hague." The broadcast was not confirmed. Possibly it referred to a recent arrangement by which the Allies are sending food convoys through the German lines to Dutch cities.

Enemy troops in the north, attempting to flee toward a possible last Nazi holdout area in Norway, were being subjected to a terrific aerial pounding. Allied planes, in a stream of rocketing, strafing and dive-bombing assaults, sank at least 53 enemy vessels and damaged scores of others.

British units were reported to have sped through Schleswig-Holstein, surging past the enemy naval base centers of Kiel and Flensburg which the Germans have declared "open cities." SHAEF was out of touch with Second Army vanguards and had no confirmation of these accounts of their progress.

Only Slight Resistance

Only slight resistance was met by Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's troops, a Stockholm dispatch said. What opposition the Germans put up was reported centered at the border city of Aabenraa.

Danish patriots posted posted thousands of proclamations throughout Copenhagen urging German troops in Denmark to capitulate.

In Berlin the Russians probed through the blazing chancellery of the Third Reich in the Wilhelmstrasse but failed to find the bodies of Adolf Hitler and Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels, who were reported by the Germans to have committed suicide.

The U. S. Seventh Army completed a circle when it joined the Fifth Army. The first Seventh Army Divisions were drawn from Italy. The army was activated for the invasion of Southern France. After crashing through France, the Saar, Bavaria and Austria, Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's men were back in Italy. The Fifth Army had hammered its way up the Italian Peninsula.

Yanks in Czechoslovakia

American Third Army troops, advancing on a 50-mile front in Czechoslovakia, had outflanked the great Skoda Munition Works at Pilsen, reaching points 44 miles to the southeast. Gen. Patton's troops also were besieging the

Surrender Negotiations With Doenitz Reported Underway at Denmark

Meanwhile, Germans Swarming Over to Americans and British, Become Serious Problem and Create Delicate Situation With Danger Reds May Feel Allies Giving Shelter to Enemy

By The Associated Press

Nazi resistance was falling apart both in the North and South today and the Swedish newspaper Afontididningen said in an unconfirmed report that capitulation negotiations were believed underway near the Danish border.

The Swedish newspaper said it was believed Grand Admiral Doenitz, new German Fuehrer, and Marshal Montgomery, Allied commander of the 21st Army Group, were conferring at Flensburg.

A dispatch from Supreme Headquarters said reports there were that German capitulation in Denmark might come "at any hour."

Although reports by way of Sweden said the British had crossed the Danish frontier at numerous points, meeting slight resistance, a dispatch from Kaj Schou, Associated Press correspondent in Copenhagen, which was telephoned to Stockholm at 11 A. M. today (5 A. M., Eastern War

Too Much Butter? OPA Says Grocer May Cut Points

CLEVELAND, May 4.—(AP)—If butter is piling up and spoiling in hands of dealers unable to sell it because of its high "red point-value," the district Office of Price Administration hasn't heard of it.

"Why should we receive such reports or complaints," Clinton M. Fiske, district OPA director, demanded last night. "Merchants may reduce the point value of any rationed foods they're handling without consulting this agency provided that down to 50 percent they keep price reduction in line with point reductions."

"In the matter of butter," Fiske continued, "any dealer with a supply on hand conceivably in danger of turning rancid can even sell it for no points if he cuts his price in half."

CIGARETTES ARE SCARCER AS IF YOU DIDN'T KNOW; TAX REPORTS PROVE IT

COLUMBUS, May 4.—(AP)—Cigarettes are getting scarcer all the time—as if smokers didn't already know it.

Ritter Denkewalter, acting chief of the State Department of Taxation, reported today taxes collected on cigarettes in April were $703,906.41, a decrease of $29,463.84 from the $733,370.50 collected in March.

Collections in April, 1944, were $903,158.09.

HUNGRY PRISONERS FOUND IN GERMANY

Many American Fliers Are Among 21,000 Gaunt Men

By EDWARD D. BALL

WITH THE U. S. THIRD ARMY IN GERMANY, May 4—(AP)—The Third Army found 21,000 Allied prisoners, including 4,100 American airmen, today in a woods five miles south of Braunau where they had been abandoned by the Germans after being marched into the Bavarian redoubt.

All were ravenously hungry and suffering the effects of several days in the woods without shelter.

The Americans appeared, for the most part, in fair physical condition.

Starved and diseased Russians, Poles and Czechs were in a pitiful state. A number of bodies of their comrades who died after the Germans fled were scattered through the woods.

The prisoners, reached by the 13th armored and 80th infantry divisions, had been marched out a number of camps all over Germany as the Russian and western Allies approached each other.

Yank Finds His Mother in Germany

Little Old Woman His Grandmother, First To Greet Him at Old Home in Czech Town

By HAL BOYLE

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN GERMANY, May 3.—(Delayed)—(AP)—An American sergeant's reunion with his mother brought tears to the eyes of everybody in the little Czech border town of Barnau.

Major Dan Riddle of Marksville, La., had to go to Barnau and with him went Capt. Harry Grier of Oxford, Pa., and a driver, Pvt. Tom Kearns of Hartford, Conn.

"May I go along, too?" asked Sgt. Harry Alden of Pelham, N. Y. "My family used to have a summer home there."

As they rode toward Barnau the quiet, black-haired sergeant told them how he was born in Nuernburg of German-Jewish parents, how he came to the United States in 1938, became a citizen and joined the American Army.

"Every year before 1938 I used to go to Barnau in the summer," he said. He became more excited as the jeep neared the little town.

"He remembered every turn in the road and every tree and hill," said Kearns.

"There it is! There is my house," the sergeant called out. He leaped from the jeep, ran up

THE WAR TODAY

—By DEWITT MACKENZIE—

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Substituting for Dewitt MacKenzie

The war in Germany, if it may still be called that, has reached the point today where Nazi activity has little further meaning.

Continued resistance by fanatics in the "surrendered" area of Austria makes it clear that the mop-up must be continued, as it probably will have to be continued even after any general surrender order or V-E proclamation.

A general surrender order would be welcome for the effect it might have on the waverers, for saving some Allied lives. From the long-range standpoint, it probably would be just as well if the last-ditch Nazis never surrendered, but stand to be wiped out. Just as well if war's destruction is spread so that no German can live more than walking distance from a shell-torn reminder of what happens to those who place their faith in false leaders.

Just as well that war's explosive calling cards be left in the last hideouts of Bavaria and the other conquerors in Copenhagen, if they really are there, are of more interest than significance.

But it is very satisfying to hear that the remnants of the Nazi overlordship now operate from the territory of a little neighbor against whom their might was powerless. Karl Doenitz, successor to Der Fuehrer, heir to the world, master of the master race, scorned by the newsboys who once again sell non-Nazi papers on the streets of Copenhagen.

Which reminds me that the world's greatest presses were unable to meet the demand for newspapers in New York yesterday afternoon. Newsdealer after newsdealer was forced to say, sadly, "sorry. Expect more soon. They're going like hotcakes."

Though the significance of the news was gone, the issue decided, a people watched closely the manner of the arrival of their victory.

ualties for six weeks—5,551, including 1,131 killed, 1,604 missing, 2,816 wounded. This does not include casualties on two light naval units sunk and others damaged in a combined attack last nightt by suicide planes and boats and high-flying bombers.

Australian veterans met bitter Japanese resistance Wednesday, the second day of their invasion of oil rich little Tarakan sland off northeast Borneo, but managed to widen their beachhead.

Using remote controlled land mines, the Nipponese blew 30-foot craters along a highway to delay the advance of Aussie tanks toward the island's airstrip. The Aussies bore through heavy bunkers to reach high ground overlooking the island's main city.

Fifty to 100 Superforts struck the second neutralizing blow in two days this morning against southern Japanese bases for these attacks.

Paratroop-led British and Indian forces slogging through heavy rain were reported successfully wiping out Japanese in Rangoon, capital and key city of Burma which they entered yesterday. Nipponese have been fleeing the city for weeks.

Strong U. S. 24th infantry division patrols entered Davao City in the southern Philippines and found it apparently virtually deserted by Japanese troops and its pre-war colony of 17,000 Niponese civilians.

Two airfields, coastal guns and ammunition dumps were taken by the 24th in its so far lightly opposed advance.

OSU PROBLEMS ARE OUTLINED FOR PARENTS

Professor of English Is Speaker at Meeting at WHS Thursday

The problems which will overwhelm Ohio State University after the war unless the right kind of preparations are made in advance were discussed by Dr. William H. Hildreth, youthful professor of English at OSU, when he addressed the Fayette County Ohio State University Parents' Association in the home economics room of the high school Thursday night.

The meeting, organized by Dr. and Mrs. J. A. McCoy, county mother and dad, Mrs. Beryl Cavinee, president of the OSU Mothers' Club and other members of the club, opened with a casserole supper.

WILLIAM H. HILDRETH

Miss Mary Elizabeth Browning, supervisor of music at WHS, presented Miss Janice Murray who sang "The Bondmaid" by Lalo; Miss June Cook, who sang "Will You Remember" by Romberg and Joe Cullen who played "Valse Danseuse" and "Sparklets" by Miles as saxophone solos.

A. B. Murray, superintendent of city schools, introduced Hildreth who was noted as a teacher, an administrator and a writer, he said.

There are 7,000 students now enrolled at OSU, an enrollment steadily increasing from quarter to quarter. "All the classrooms are filled. The problem of providing for an ever increasing number of veterans is a serious one. One of the requirements of a state university is that it must take the students that small colleges and privately endowed schools are not able to take," Hildreth said.

Even now one of the great worries of the university is the matter of dormitories and rooming houses for the students, some of whom have had to go to Worthington or other places eight or ten miles distant to find rooms. Under the G.I. Bill of Rights, there is sure to be a greatly increased enrollment in the autumn quarter, and the university plans to offer a flexible program, adapted to the individual in every possible way. It seems now that the only solution, with crowded conditions, and not enough classrooms, will be to offer classes at night, he said.

Another great worry is the matter of teachers. The army has taken a large number of good teachers who will be held to police Germany. Other good teachers are leaving because of higher salaries. There now is no backlog of teachers being built up in the graduate school, Hildreth said.

Education, the speaker said, has had to take a set-back in the last five years, partly owing to the lack of research and the lack of men to train research workers. Welfare is now in the ascendancy. The supply of doctors, dentists nurses and other trained health workers will be one of the great problems in Ohio after the war. Ohio State University is seeking to establish a State Health Center to meet the necessity. Returned war veterans are not seeking any favors and they do not want to be segregated in their classes. Their grades are about the same as the others, and they are there for study and they want to get it over with and go out and make a living.

JUST A FRIENDLY CHAT

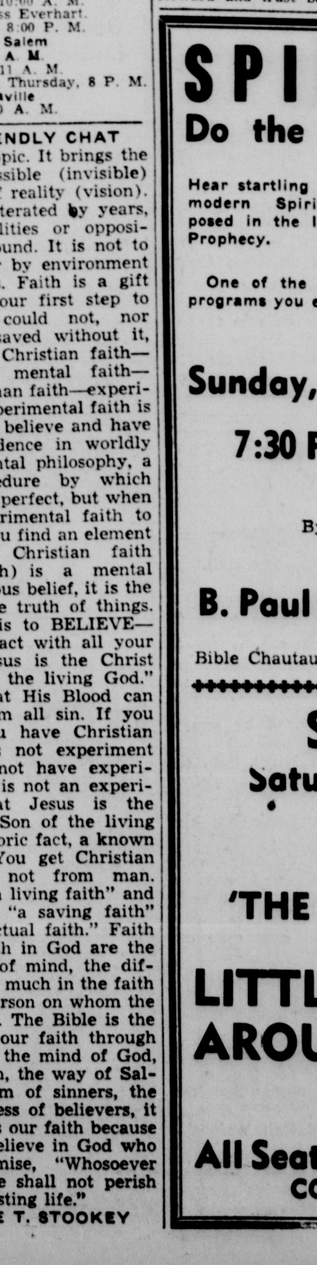

Faith is telescopic. It brings the seemingly impossible (invisible) into the realm of reality (vision). Faith is not obliterated by years, nations, personalities or opposition wherever found. It is not to be accounted for by environment or circumstances. Faith is a gift of God! It is your first step to Salvation. You could not, nor would you be saved without it, but it must be Christian faith—heart faith—not mental faith—mental faith is man faith—experimental faith. Experimental faith is modern faith, to believe and have trust and confidence in worldly things, it is mental philosophy, a method of procedure by which you desire to be perfect, but when you go to experimental faith to test the truth, you find an element of an error. Christian faith (Christ-like faith) is a mental process of religious belief, it is the conviction of the truth of things. Christian faith is to BELIEVE—believe in the fact with all your heart that, "Jesus is the Christ and the Son of the living God." And believe that His Blood can cleanse you from all sin. If you believe this you have Christian faith. God does not experiment and you must not have experimental faith. It is not an experimental fact that Jesus is the Christ and the Son of the living God. It is a historic fact, a known fact—a truth. You get Christian faith from God, not from man. Men speak of "a living faith" and "a dead faith," "a saving faith" and "an intellectual faith." Faith in man and faith in God are the same exercises of mind, the difference is not so much in the faith as it is in the person on whom the faith terminates. The Bible is the only guide for our faith through life, it explains the mind of God, the state of man, the way of Salvation, the doom of sinners, the joy and happiness of believers, it is our hope, it is our faith because we learn and believe in God who made this promise, "Whosoever believeth on me shall not perish but have everlasting life."

Women and Postwar Jobs

It seems probable that many Fayette County women, like others in all parts of the country, who have been working outside their homes during wartime, may decide that they want to continue some form of work after the war.

However it seems likely that when most of our absent men in military service come home there will not be enough jobs for all the women who have been working and may wish to keep on doing so. Already many employers are seriously considering who shall have preference after servicemen.

This puts something up to women workers for serious thought right now. They should be making plans accordingly. Evidently merely being willing to take a job will not be enough.

The women who will get the jobs and keep them are the women who have given the best accounts of themselves during the period when jobs were plentiful.

Any woman who wants to keep right on earning a pay check ought to be sure she is actually EARNING the money she receives.

She ought to check up on herself and see whether or not she has given as much to her job as she should have and whether she has brought to it not only efficiency but a pleasant personality and the ability to get along with other employees.

Maybe it isn't too late right now for some of the women who have been trading on their "indispensable" status to turn over a new leaf and start giving more to their jobs.

Promoting New Ideas

Nazism started as a one-man conspiracy against the world. Hitler would master Germany, then Europe, and ultimately all nations. He came so near to success that the concentrated power of half the world was required to stop his progress and beat him down. Even yet the fire of that fierce soul is not quenched.

It is not pleasant to hold up such a man as an example to the rest of mankind, yet in a way he serves a moral purpose. "What man has done, man can do." Most people fall short of their dreams by not working hard enough to realize them. A dozen gifted men, imbued with Hitler's energy and drive, but for a wiser and nobler purpose, might bring a beneficient world revolution and change the course of history in many ways. The world is full of able men who perhaps merely lack the courage and drive necessary to establish their ideas.

On to Alaska!

"Ex-GI, come to Alaska! There is plenty of free farm land to be homesteaded. There are great timber stands and wonderful mining opportunities, besides livestock raising, trapping and fur trading."

This invitation to ex-service men, extended by Edward L. Bartless, Alaskan territorial delegate to Congress, will in his opinion be accepted by many. To some it should appeal more than to others. Anyone who saw service in the Aleutians probably never wants to go anywhere in that part of the world again. On the other hand, graduates of the steaming jungles of the Solomons or of Iwo Jima might easily wish to get far off, in a cool place, with Alaska filling the bill.

Even if the discharged fighting men don't go to Alaska, plenty of civilians will be settling there in the next decade or so. They are talking about it now.

Fit People

Our wartime selective service, says Edward A. Pool, industrial welfare director, has found 5,000,000 of our working men handicapped mentally or physically. He emphasizes the great need of "creating in people's minds and hearts the desire to achieve better mental and physical fitness."

It isn't as if such a situation were necessary or inevitable. Our people generally have enough to put them ahead in these respects. But they spend dollars on "vanities and superficial things" and only pennies for "personal advancement and prevention."

It might be possible, by a proper approach, to wake up millions of Americans to the greater possibilities they have in them. The government itself may yet take a hand in such physical and educational development, on a far bigger scale than has yet been attempted in this country.

Bombing the Mikado

"Go ahead and bomb the Mikado's palace," says Wang Shih-chieh, Chinese minister of information. "It will destroy all the Japanese superstitions about his being a god."

The Chinese have had plenty of opportunity to study the Japanese, and know what they really think. Probably it has been uncertainty of the consequences rather than inability to reach the target that has kept the imperial palace unharmed by our bombers.

Wang Shih-chieh's advice may or may not be taken, but it is not a bad guess that at Washington just now they are accumulating all possible information as to whether bombing the Mikado would pay.

Flashes of Life

Enemy Tonsorial Styles

OKINAWA—(AP)—Japanese military men have three haircut styles from which to choose, according to a poster in a village barbership.

The fanciest type is with the part on the side. Then comes the straight-back pompadour with no part. Last, but by no means least, comes a bristly job not more than a quarter-inch long—the type predominant among Japanese prisoners.

An Important Development in Toxic Goitre Treatment

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

SOME time ago we wrote in these columns of the advantages of a new treatment for toxic goitre using a drug known as thiouracil. Readers will remember we stated at that time that in toxic goitre there is an excessive secretion of thyroid extract by the thyroid gland, which is located in the front part of the neck. This extra secretion produces such symptoms as loss of weight and strength, rapid heart beat, increased sweating, diarrhea, tremor and in some instances (when the condition has been present for some time) protrusion of the eyes, known as exophthalmus.

Just what causes toxic goitre has not as yet been determined. The condition is a serious one and if allowed to persist, may result in permanent damage to the heart, nervous system and other parts of the body.

Until recent times, surgical removal of most of the thyroid gland was accepted as the best treatment for toxic goitre. In certain instances, X-ray and radium have been employed, and in milder cases the giving of iodine, together with complete rest and the use of various sedative or nerve-quieting drugs was somewhat successful.

Some patients treated with iodine and rest do seem to improve to such an extent that operation is not required. In other words, the disease seems to just get better. On the other hand, many patients treated in this way for too long a time suffer such extensive damage to the tissues that they succumb to infections or become mental or physical wrecks.

The thiouracil treatment now seems to be well established. It is not known exactly how the drug works. However, it would appear probable that it prevents the union of a substance known as tyrosine an amino acid which comes from protein foods, and iodine, which is necessary in the formation of thyroxin. Previously we have told our readers that thyroxin is the active substance in the secretion formed by the thyroid gland under normal conditions.

Doctor Adolph M. Nussey of Birmingham, England, reports the results in the treatment of twenty-seven patients with toxic goitre, using thiouracil. The treatment was carried out for periods varying from three weeks to twelve months. Good results were obtained in all instances but one, and in this patient the disease had been present for years before treatment with the thiouracil was started.

Doctor Nussey thinks that all patients suffering from toxic goitre should be treated with thiouracil. It is administered three times a day for the first three to five weeks, after which time the dose is gradually reduced, and is kept at the lowest possible level to maintain the patient's well-being. If the patient does not respond quickly to the treatment, the dose of thiouracil should not be increased beyond a safe limit. The patient must be kept under the constant supervision of the physician so that any reactions which develop may be noted promptly, and the dose of the preparation reduced.

It is Doctor Nussey's opinion that treatment with thiouracil is much safer than operation and that perhaps treatment with this drug may completely supplant operation as the method of choice in the treatment of many cases of toxic goitre.

Washington at a Glance

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Even if changing balances of power in the government raise the speakership of the House of Representatives to a prestige it hasn't enjoyed in years, it won't change Speaker Sam Rayburn.

He loves people, horses and cattle, and around him simple, homely things. His Washington apartment is modest but livable, the sort of place that cronies like to settle down in for a long evening chin-fest, after Sam has personally whipped up the kind of toothsome meal that men of good appetite like to sit down to.

The farm that he calls home with much affection is the same. It's near Bonham, on the "black waxie" soil of north Texas, where his parents took him as a boy of five, 58 years ago. His hobbies, aside from cooking, are reading, riding, fishing and folks.

• • •

In appearance, Speaker Rayburn is as plain as a well-worn boot. His clothes look comfortable rather than smart. His bald head is rimmed with a thin fringe of hair just under his hatbrim. He is shy, quiet and friendly. His dark eyes sparkle; he walks with quick energy. His talk is homely and Texan, but if you take it home with you and study it over, you'll find in it more common sense than in most of the verbal pyrotechnics of his colleagues.

Talking things out plainly and without heat is the speaker's way of getting things done in the coatroom and the smoke-filled rooms. He rarely makes a speech from the floor, and when he does he tries for no forensic heights.

On the speaker's rostrum, Rayburn often shows different colors entirely. He can be as firm and tough as any who have held the job in our time. When he rules there are no questions asked.

A House employee once estimated for me that there are more than ten thousand House rules and precedents. A coworker standing by adding: "And Sam Rayburn knows them all."

• • •

When he is working for a piece of legislation there are few, if any, parliamentarians who can get around him. President Roosevelt leaned heavily on him to keep the rebellious House in line. He often has been credited with single-handedly saving the extension of the Draft Act, which squeezed through the lower chamber on a 203-202 vote. Had one vote switched, we would have been less prepared than we were for Pearl Harbor.

What his relation with President Truman will be are yet to be determined. So far, Truman as President has concentrated his attention on his former colleagues in the Senate.

His unprecedented invitation for the President pro tem of the Senate, Kenneth McKellar, to sit in on Cabinet meetings may have its repercussions in the House unless a similar courtesy is extended to the speaker.

Personally, an honest slight means nothing to Sam Rayburn, but he learned the power of the House from John N. Garner and a respect for its dignity from the late Nicholas Longworth.

For all his mildness and friendly ways, the speaker and the House are not to be brushed off without trouble.

Author's Birthday Anniversary
MAY 4

It is a pretty good scheme to be cheery and sing as you follow the road, for a good many pilgrims are weary and hopelessly carry the load—their hearts from the journey are breaking, and a road seems to them like a mile; it may be the noise you are making will hearten them up for a while. It's a pretty good scheme in your joking, to cut out the jest that's unkind, for the barbed kind of fun you are poking, some fellow may carry in mind; and a good many hearts fond and true, by words that were carelessly spoken by alecky fellows like you. It's a pretty good scheme to be doing some choring around while you can; for the gods with their gifts are pursuing the earnest industrious man; and those gods, in their own El Dorado, are laying up wrath for the one who loafs all the day in the shadow while others toil out in the sun.

Walt Mason

"The Salt of the Earth"

When the blue divils swarm all around you
And the life that yer livin' is hell;
When the saints ye have prayed to protect you
Seem to be off their jobs for a spell;
When the world is that black wid disaster
That ye swear it wad be sweet to die,
Sure 'tis better to laugh than to cry.

The old divil can do but his worst, dear,
As the saints can do only their best;
If ye laugh when yer hurt and don't worry,
Sure the Lord will take care of the rest;
All the angels above do be smilin'
On the one who can make troubles fly,
So ye'll heed me, dear heart, and be cheery
For 'tis better to laugh than to cry.

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

Mrs. Gentry sipped her lobster bisque. "Tell me, my dear," she asked pointedly, "how do you manage?"

Gail's clear blue eyes were guileless. "Manage what?"

The soft shoulders shrugged. "Being a woman. Isn't it a great detriment to your work?"

"To some extent," Gail agreed. "But it's not important."

"You mean it is not important to carry on one's womanly duties successfully?" Mrs. Gentry glanced at her son. "One's home, one's servants—"

"Those aren't mountains," Gail said impatiently. "In my own case, I find that with the help of a housekeeper, my small house runs efficiently. Katie knows my likes and dislikes, shops at the market, does the laundry and all that sort of thing. It would be foolish for me to waste the time."

"You mention minor duties," Mrs. Gentry said delicately. "There are others, you know."

Though she loathed such genteel implications, Gail answered civilly enough. "If you mean marriage and children, I'm sure both can be managed."

Mrs. Gentry took her second helping of fried chicken and yams. "Girls are so strange today," she sighed. "When Mr. Gentry and I were married, he wouldn't allow me to do a thing. He thought active women were a little unbalanced."

"His opinions would be pretty dated now," Gail retorted. "Women are becoming real helpmates to their men as they were in pioneer days, when they were true partners, sharing work, responsibility — everything! The following generations found women growing useless again, until—"

"Aren't you being rather intolerant, Gail?" Burke said.

"I don't think so," she answered. "It's true," he said hurriedly, "that girls now are as modern as bombers—"

Mrs. Gentry turned to him. "And do you really believe such modernity leads to happiness?" she inquired, with caustic gentleness.

"I do," Gail answered firmly. "I believe a marriage should be a kind of partnership. Most girls today have jobs and are reasonably independent. Consequently, they probably marry more for love than their mothers did."

"What an odd notion!" Mrs. Gentry said.

Dessert arrived, a Lady Baltimore cake and ice cream. Gail thought she'd never eaten a more starchy meal. She felt weighted down with lead, and it wasn't due to the food alone.

At nine o'clock, Burke turned on the radio for news. "My dear," Mrs. Gentry ordered mildly, "do turn it off. I cannot bear hearing about the war. I suffer for our poor boys. That terrible Russia — mark my words — will make a separate peace with Hitler!"

Gail took a deep breath. You had to love a man an awful lot to tolerate such a mother.

By nine-thirty, the conversation had petered out. Gail fidgeted. She kept her eye on Burke, who was obviously uncomfortable. Poor fellow, he was between the frying pan and the fire.

Finally she said, "I must telephone my house."

Burke jumped up. "The phone's in the hall," he said, leading the way.

Katie announced there had been just one call. It came in a few minutes ago. Somebody called for a Miz Berend in Springdale, who was in labor. The pains were coming every five minutes.

"Why didn't you call me?" Gail demanded irritably.

"You didn't tell me where to reach you," Katie answered tartly.

"If she calls again, say I'm on my way." Gail hung up and started back toward the drawing room. But the sound of Mrs. Gentry's high-pitched hysterical voice stopped her, suddenly, like a thunderbolt. "Burke! You are out of your mind —that girl is no fit wife for you!"

"Mother, please—" Burke begged.

"You owe me something," Mrs. Gentry continued violently, "I have been a devoted mother. You cannot humiliate me by marrying that girl."

Gail returned to the telephone and made a seemly clatter. Then she went to the door. "I must run along," she said quickly. "I hope you'll forgive me, but one of my patients is having her baby."

"I'll come with you," Burke offered.

She shook her head. "Please don't bother. I'll get a cab." She smiled into the older woman's baneful eyes. "Thank you for the dinner. I shan't forget it."

"Thank you for coming," Mrs. Gentry said sweetly.

Burke saw Gail to a taxi. "Goodbye, darling," he said uncomfortably. "I'll call you soon."

Was this the end of the evening? Was this the surprise Burke had in store for her?

The car stopped before her house, and she dashed out. She opened the door and collected her bag and instruments. She had been worried about Mary Berend; she prayed for a normal birth. The girl was so frail.

Without changing her clothes, she ran out to the garage for her car, and drove swiftly through the darkened streets to the Springdale waterfront.

At a wooden tenement, she stopped the car. She hurried up the walk, then picked her way through a dimly-lit hall to the top of the narrow basement stairs. From the stairwell came a strident radio. She stumbled and caught herself.

"You better be careful on them steps—" a voice cautioned. Looking down, she saw a heavyset, middle-aged woman watching her. "She feels awful bad, doctor—" the woman added. "I was gonna telephone you again."

"Has she been alone?" Gail asked.

"Well, I stayed with her a while, but I'm takin' care of my little grandchild—he's got a cold—"

"I'll take a look at him afterwards," Gail promised. "Will you come back presently? I may need you." She plunged into the basement room Mary Berend called home. It was more fit for storage place than living quarters, for the walls were damp, even in the summer, and the air sticky and humid. The girl who was huddled in the sagging bed looked like a child. She is shaped like a child, too, Gail thought bitterly; malnutrition does terrible things to pelvic bones.

She went over to the bed. The girls eyes were closed, tears crawling slowly down her pale cheeks. Gail felt the cords of her throat tightening. The poor kid. . . .

"You're way ahead of schedule," Gail said cheerily. "Your Mister Nemo isn't due for another three or four weeks!"

The girl's eyes opened wearily. "I fell . . . on a bus, today," she whispered.

"Mrs. Berend, I'd like to shake you," Gail scolded. "Why didn't you call me?"

The girl was silent. Gail knew why she hadn't called. She hated to bother the doctor, for she had no money to pay her. And none of Gail's chidings had convinced her that it was right to come in for regular visits.

SOFT COAL PRICE HIKE AUTHORIZED

Rise To Compensate for Higher Wages

WASHINGTON, May 4—(AP)—The OPA yesterday authorized immediate soft coal price ceiling increases ranging from four to 55 cents a ton to compensate for higher wages granted to miners.

The increases are in producers' ceilings and will be passed on to the public.

The ceiling increases for producers, by districts and type of mine, included:

District four—Ohio, strip no increase, deep 26 cents.

WHEAT AND FRUIT SUFFER IN FROST

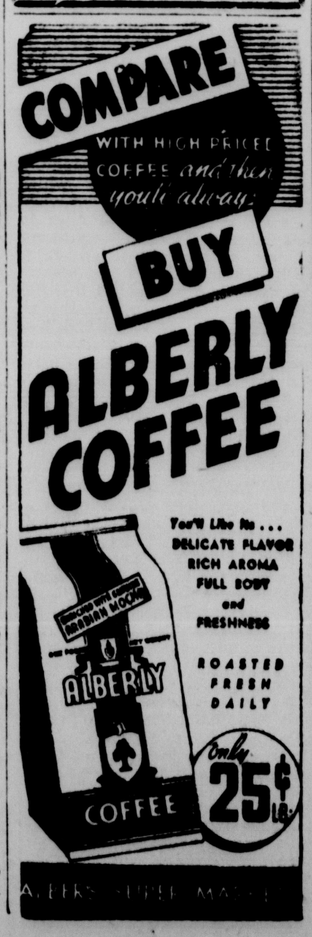

EAST LIVERPOOL, May 4—(AP)—Lawrence H. Copeland, government meteorologist at nearby Millport, said today all wheat probably had been ruined and all fruit must have suffered severely from a heavy frost in the area last night.

The forecaster reported a low temperature of 25 in outlying districts from midnight to dawn. The airport at East Liverpool reported a low of 28 degrees.

Copeland said the March warm spell had advanced crops so far that current freezes were causing unusual damage.

WSCS and WCTU Met Thursday At Wayne Hall

The May meetings of the Good Hope WSCS and the WCTU were held at Wayne Hall, Thursday, May 3, with Mrs. Manford Hoppes and Mrs. J. B. York acting as hostesses. Promptly at 1 P.M. a bounteous covered dish luncheon was served to twenty-four members and guests.

At two o'clock, Mrs. Russell McCoy, president of the WSCS society, called the meeting to order. Mrs. Roxy Haines took charge of the devotionals, her topic being, "World Wide Prayer."

Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved. Mrs. McCoy conducted a short business session during which time the society voted to meet hereafter in time to have luncheon at 12:30 fast time.

Mrs. Ralph Braden discussed the topic, "Sanctity of the Christian Home." She compared Christian home life in the United States with that of China, India, Africa, and Latin America. She pointed out that foreign countries get many of their impressions of our home life from the American movies and too often that impression is not good.

The meeting was closed by a song and prayer.

Mrs. Haines, president of the WCTU took charge of that meeting immediately following the close of the WSCS session. After the reading of last month's minutes, Mrs. John Kneisley, program leader, spoke on Child Health Week and Mothers' Day and gave some very interesting facts concerning each. She then discussed the deplorable condition of many of the county jails in the various states. Not only are some most unsanitary, but the moral atmosphere is sadly neglected. Children, first offenders, are sometimes put in cells with hardened criminals; she read an article where in one instance a 14-year-old boy was allowed to associate with a prostitute. At the close of her talk she asked those present to give the pledge of allegiance to the Christian flag. A song and prayer concluded the meeting.

The June meeting will be held at Wayne Hall on June 7 with Mrs. Hattie Wilson and Mrs. Anna Sollars as hostess.

Cecilians Plan Music Festival

In observance of National Music Week, the Cecilians plan to sponsor a spring music festival at the high school auditorium on Friday evening, May eleventh, when Miss Mary Elizabeth Browning and Mr. William Clift, Jr., music supervisors of the city schools will be in charge of the program.

This will be planned and discussed in its entirety when the Cecilians monthly meeting is held Wednesday evening, May 9, at the home of Mrs. Robert Craig. At this time all members will participate in an especially prepared program by Mrs. Donald Schwaigert, chairman.

Mrs. Charles Hire is hostess chairman.

Honored At Party

A pleasant afternoon was spent at Cynthia Jean Garringer's birthday party on Saturday, given by her mother, Mrs. Jean Garringer.

Several interesting games were played, after which the guests assembled in the dining room which was beautifully decorated in yellow and blue; a floral centerpiece of tulips and pansies held a note of interest.

The little hostess opened her gifts and thanked her guests courteously.

Mrs. Garringer was assisted by Mrs. Howard Turner and Mrs. Wendell Garringer.

Plans Discussed by VFW For Sale of Poppies

At the regular meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary presided over by the president, Mrs. Carrie Cox, a lengthy business session was held due to the many important subjects that came before the auxiliary.

Final plans were made for the veteran-made poppies that the post and auxiliary offer the public each year. These poppies are made in hospitals by our own wounded soldiers and sold to the posts and auxiliaries who in turn sell them to the public. This money is used only for the relief of soldiers and their families. Mrs. Ruth Hess of the auxiliary and Bruce Hidy of the Post are the poppy chairmen this year.

The park project was discussed and the auxiliary voted to give $50.00 to this.

Wolfe-Hodson Vows Exchanged in Detroit

Friends here are learning of the marriage of Pfc. Bill Edward Wolfe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lavoo, Detroit, Mich., to Miss Jean Hodson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Woodside, also of Detroit on Thursday evening, April 26, at seven o'clock.

Witnessing the quiet ceremony was twenty-one relatives and friends. Mrs. Frank Kearney and her mother, Mrs. Irene Garlinger, attended the marriage from here.

It will be remembered with interest that Pfc. Wolfe was employed in this city at Craig Bros. prior to entering service. For the past year he has been stationed in Iceland and reports on May 17 to return to duty there.

An informal reception followed at the home of the bride's parents to which the wedding party was invited.

80 Attend Luncheon - Bridge At Country Club

Mrs. J. J. Kelley, Mrs. R. M. Hughey, Mrs. Stanley Chitty, Mrs. Donald Lange, Mrs. Mary Palmer and Mrs. Hazel Smathers were a coterie of hospitable and gracious hostesses to eighty persons who attended the fortnightly luncheon-bridge at the Country Club on Thursday.

Receiving their guests in the club lounge, they invited them to small tables where an unusually delicious and appetizingly prepared luncheon was served. With twenty guests as honorees for the affair, the members enjoyed an informal luncheon hour of gay visiting and chatting. A galaxy of spring cut flowers in many colorful bowls and watergardens centered the many small luncheon tables.

The three out-of-town guests were Mrs. O. M. Tucker and Mrs. Bess McCoy, Wilmington, Mrs. M. E. Klise, St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. J. M. Willis, Bloomingburg.

During the remainder of the pleasant and congenial afternoon, nineteen tables of bridge were at play, at the conclusion of which awards were presented to Mrs. Tucker, Mrs. Forest Ellis, Mrs. C. L. Ford and Miss Dorothea Gaut. A table of anagrams was also at play during the afternoon and Mrs. E. F. Todhunter won the prize.

METHODISTS GIVE SUM OF $294,423

Big Gain for World Service Fund Is Noted

Methodists of the Ohio area have responded to requests from Bishop H. Lester Smith for increased funds to support world-wide missionary and educational work during the war emergency, by contributing $294,423 to the denomination's World Service fund during the first ten months of the fiscal year.

The total represented a gain of $41,047, or 16.7 per cent, over last year the Rev. Dr. Thomas B. Lugg, treasurer of the Methodist General Commission on World Service and Finance, announced.

The nation's Methodists gave $3,863,221 to the World Service fund during the June-March period, a gain of $380,796, or 10.9 per cent, over 1944. In addition to World Service giving, Methodists contributed one million dollars more than the $25,000,000 goal for postwar relief and reconstruction, first phase of the denomination's five-fold Crusade for Christ.

Both Annual Conferences in the Ohio area showed gains in World Service giving for the ten months, reported by conference treasurers as follows:

Northeast Ohio Conference—$16,347, and Ohio Conference, Rev. D. H. Markle, Granville, O. —$24,700.

Brown Luring OSU Athletes From College, Widdoes Charges

COLUMBUS, May 4—(AP)—Carroll Widdoes, head football coach at Ohio State University, said today that Lt. Paul E. Brown, who had a contract to coach Cleveland's team in the proposed postwar All-America Football League, "is signing or trying to sign players from our 1942 freshman team who now are in service and has approached some of the varsity players."

Brown was Widdoes' predecessor at Ohio State and was on leave of absence from the university until he resigned to accept the Cleveland job.

"When he (Brown) was here I heard him in all of his speeches advise boys to get their college education first and then sign professional contracts," Widdoes said. "Now that he is in the pro game he is doing an about face."

Widdoes referred specifically to Lou Groza of Martins Ferry, place-kicking star on the 1942 Ohio State freshman team, and Joe Whisler of Willard, a star fullback on that same eleven.

Whisler, he said, had written to his family that he had received a contract to play pro football for Brown. Whisler now is in the armed services.

Groze also has written that he intended to play pro football after the war.

Under the present eligibility rules both Whisler and Groze would have three years of varsity competition ahead of them when they return to school.

The national pro league follows the practice of not signing any college players until after their class has been graduated. Widdoes pointed out that the class in which Groza and Whisler were enrolled has not been graduated.

He also asserted that Hal Dean, a guard on the 1942 Ohio State varsity, has been "approached" although he still will have a year of competition when the war is over.

"We believe our stand is the correct one," Widdoes said, "and we believe that a majority of the people think it is sound for a boy to get his education first.

"He (Brown) had the same idea before but now that he has changed, he's on the other side of the fence.

Widdoes conferred today with I. W. St. John, director of athletics at Ohio State, but said, "we don't know yet just what we'll do."

—Spying— On Sports

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, May 4—(AP)—Now that baseball has made a happy choice of a head man, it seems time for hockey to do the same thing if it is to maintain its "major league" status. . .Red Dutton, who has tried to quit a half dozen times, says he means positively this summer. . .The national league club owners claim they want a man about 40 years old who has had legal training and who knows his way around hockey. . .The unofficial nominee who comes closest to filling that bill is Lt. Comdt. Myles Lane, former Dartmouth football and hockey star who was an assistant United States district attorney in New York. . . The catch, of course, is that Myles isn't a Canadian and the guys who'll pick a league president are.

Sabina Ball Team Called for Drill

Tossing out a general challenge to "any team wanting to book games. . .contact Guy Taylor," the Sabina Merchant baseball team manager called for another practice session at Recreation Park next Sunday afternoon.

The Merchants have been one of the tough independent teams of this section for several years, and optimism reigns among its fans whenever they get to talking about the prospects for the coming season. Many veterans are expected to be at familiar places while several newcomers have shown promise in previous tryouts.

New Baseball Headquarters To Be in Cincinnati Says Czar

CHICAGO, May 4.—(AP)—A. B. (Happy) Chandler, who is undecided as to when he will shed his toga as Kentucky senator and don the official robes of baseball commissioner, spent a busy day in Chicago yesterday—but all his business was about baseball.

The major item affecting the commissioner-elect's office was announcement by Mr. A. B. C. that business of the commissioner will be directed from two fronts—at least temporarily.

The commissioner's headquarters, in Chicago during the 24 years the late K. M. Landis held office, will be in Cincinnati, Chandler said. But Leslie M. O'Connor, Landis' secretary-treasurer, is his new "special assistant," and will be in charge of the Chicago office. Eventually, Chandler said, the Chicago office will be discontinued and all business directed from Cincinnati. The new secretary-treasurer of the baseball commissioner is Walter Warring Mulbry, Chandler's Senate secretary.

Chandler visited Landis' office yesterday after a press conference, posed for photographers on the "throne" of the white-thatched squire, who died last November 25, and then conferred at length with O'Connor. That apparently was the start and finish of Chandler's "homecoming" to baseball headquarters.

He told newsmen he did not know when he would resign from the U. S. Senate—it may not be for some time—but in the meantime the commissioner's office would be established in Cincinnati with Mulbry in charge. The Kentucky senator said the uncertainty of world affairs might force him to delay signing his seven-year contract beyond June when it had been expected he would quit the Senate.

O'Connor, who with Presidents Will Harridge and Ford Frick of the American and National League, will serve in an advisory capacity to the commissioner-elect, told reporters he intends to serve as Chandler's special assistant for one year.

Jinx Broken By Saints as Millers Lose

(By the Associated Press)

St. Paul won a ball game yesterday—its second of the season—ending a two weeks victory famine for the American Association cellar dwellers.

Minneapolis, the Saints' old twin cities rival, was the victim of their 10 to 5 win, the first triumph since their opening game at Lexington Park on April 19.

St. Paul's first win kept the Apostles at the top of the league for about a week, due to the elements. But they lost their next five encounters and dropped into last place.

Isadore Leon, the Millers' Cuban pitcher who was after his fourth straight win, got a blistering from the Saints during his short stay. They hammered him for seven of their 14 hits before he retired in the second with none out and after pitching to four batters. Bob Albertson relieved.

Only one other association game was played yesterday, a 13 inning contest at Kansas City, with the Blues beating the league leading Milwaukee Brewers 3 to 2.

Cornell Football Squad Has 23 War Veterans

NEW YORK, May 4—(AP)—Ed McKeever, new football coach at Cornell University, said last night at a press-radio party in his honor that 23 of the 70 candidates reporting for the 1945 big Red eleven had seen combat service with either the Marine or Navy.

Paul Robeson, Jr., son of the famous singer and Rutgers football great, has been shifted from end to halfback with the introduction of the T-formation at Cornell.

FANFARE IS PLANNED FOR BASEBALL OPENER HERE ON NEXT SUNDAY

A curtain raising with all the fanfare becoming the opening of the baseball season here has been arranged for next Sunday when the Eagles meet the Springfield Coca Colas on Wilson Field.

There had been hopes for a band and all such, but the Sunday time eliminated them. However, there will be the rest of the prescribed and traditional preliminaries.

Lacking a president or governor, the city manager, Walter L. Stambaugh, is to toss the first ball to Willard Wilson, owner of the field, as the climaxing feature of the festivities.

The game is set to get underway at 2:30 P.M. immediately following the ceremonies. From that time on, it will be serious business for the Eagles.

This will not be the first game for the FOE boys, but it is to be the "official" opener. They have had little trouble in beating a couple of good teams—Good Hope and Greenfield—but the Springfielders will present much more stern opposition, if their reputation and short record for this season is any criterion. The Coca Cola boys, off to an earlier start this season than the Eagles, already have marked up a 7 to 5 win over the Giants of the Middle Atlantic League.

Alex (Lefty) Wackman, ace of the Eagle pitching staff, is slated for the job of taming the Coca Cola batters. In warm-up games he has not only crossed up opposing hitters with his hopping fast ball but has had amazingly good control for a southpaw.

Bob Bailey, who acts as a sort of coordinator of activities for the Eagles as well as their publicity agent, shied away from predicting the outcome of the game, but he did say without qualification that it would provide "some clean-cut and hard-fought baseball. . .and that's what the fans want."

Davis-Graves Team Takes Pin Crown

Mrs. Homer Davis and Mrs. Clovis Graves today are wearing the laurels in the doubles bowling tournament which ended Thursday at midnight after one of the most hotly contested evenings of bowling ever seen at the Main Street Alleys.

Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Graves rolled a 1178 total, higher than the previous 1,173 record set by Yerian and Mitchell, both men bowlers.

The championship was not decided until the last frame of the Warner and McLean performance. Ray Warner, with a spare in the last frame, needed ten pins on his last ball to defeat the women. He rolled but was able to down only seven pins for a 1,175 total a few seconds before the curfew which definitely ended the doubles tournament.

And incidentally Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Graves bowled a total of 13 games in one evening to win the championship by three pins.

Horse Racing Is Faced by New Problem

By FRED HAYDEN

NEW YORK, May 4—(AP)—Less affluent owners of small racing stables hope that when the sport finally returns, it will be on the old full-time basis and not three days a week. To many, a part-time schedule might prove of little value.

Owners of big stables including stake horses probably would be affected little, but the less pecunious turfmen, who for months have been beset with various problems, would get few opportunities to win a purse, or part of one. Cheaper grade performers would be lucky to get a chance to run once every few weeks, with too many horses around for too few races. But the animals would have to be kept razor-sharp just the same.

A situation such as developed at Tropical Park, Florida, just before the Jan. 3, shutdown, might loom. The last nine days of that session, even with nine-race programs six days a week, saw so many horses trying to "get in" that a record number had to be excluded daily. A three-day schedule, or even four, could have the same effect—supply exceeding the demand.

When it was announced at Mexico City early in March that there would be four days racing instead of three each week, horsemen there became more cheerful. Previously, many horses had remained inactive for weeks at a time.

WAR'S SHOOTING AND KILLING NOT WHAT YANKS REMEMBER

Tulsa, Okla., at an advance observation post during the Saipan battle, when dawn came and he found out that disturbing noise in the night was not infiltrating Japanese—only a brown cow giving birth to twin calves;

Marine Maj. Gen. Roy Geiger handing a bottle of beer to a Marine on fiery Peleliu Island, and apologizing because the beer was hot, and because there wasn't more beer.

These are sights that men remember: the picture-postcard beauty of Tulagi, in the Solomons; the clean, park-like look of the Russell Islands, north of Guadalcanal;

Then there are the torrential rains at Espiritu Santo, in the New Hebrides, so heavy the quonset hut roofs seem on the point of caving in—servicemen who were there will not forget those rains;

Men remember battle scenes, too—the sound of the guns, the sight of bodies, and splendid but false holiday look of tracer bullets fired at night.

But mostly they don't like to remember the shooting and the killing.

DIES OF KNIFE WOUNDS SUFFERED IN CAFE BRAWL

PORTSMOUTH, O., May 4—Wayne Kelley, 26, of Wayne, W. Va., died yesterday of knife wounds suffered in a cafe brawl. Sheriff Earl Brandel said a man was being held in connection with the cutting.

Markets and Finance

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

CHICAGO, May 4.—(AP)—A flurry of buying at the opening sent wheat and rye prices sharply higher today but profit cashing developed on the bulge and most quotations slipped back quickly.

Reports of damage to the winter wheat crop in the southwest, urgent government efforts to move grain into export positions for shipment to Europe, and a heavy milling demand for cash wheat were among the factors behind the early rush to buy.

At the finish wheat was ⅛c lower to ⅛c higher than yesterday's close, May $1.75. Corn was unchanged to up ¼c, May $1.15. Oats were down ⅛c to ⅞c, May 65⅜c. Rye was up ¼c to ⅝c, May $1.36½-⅝. Barley was ⅝c to ½c higher, May 98⅛c.

GRAIN CLOSE

CHICAGO, May 4.—(AP)—
Wheat—May $1.71½ July $1.65½-⅝; Sept. $1.60⅝-⅝; Dec. $1.60¼.
Corn—May $1.15; July $1.12¾; Sept. $1.11¼; Dec. $1.08½.
Oats—May 65¾c; July 60⅝-¼c; Sept. 57¼c; Dec. 57¼c.
Rye—May $1.36½-⅝; July $1.33⅝-¾; Sept. $1.24⅞-¾; Dec. $1.24-1.23⅞.
Barley—May 98¼c; July 98c; Sept. 95¾c; Dec. 95½c.

CASH GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 4.—(AP)—No cash wheat sales.
Corn: No. 3 yellow, $1.15¾; No. 5 yellow, $1.09; sample grade yellow, $1.08-1.10; No. 5 white, $1.08¾; sample grade white, $1.07.
No oat sales.
Barley, nominal: Malting, $1.10-1.39½; feed, 85c-1.02.
Field seed per hundredweight, nominal: Timothy, $6.00-6.25; Red Top, $15-16; Red Clover, $31.50; Sweet Clover, $10.65; Alsike, $28.50.

Golf Balls in Prospect For Use by Civilians

WASHINGTON, May 4—(AP)—Golf balls—perhaps as many as 5,000,000—will soon be produced for civilian use.

Manufacture of this scarce sports item will be made possible under a planned revision of WPB rubber regulations to permit use of neoprene—a non-tire synthetic rubber—for the inside of the balls. The covers would be of balata, the gum rubber now used for "retrading" old balls.

DAY'S ACTIVITIES IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, May 4.—(AP)—Market customers still liked peace-rated stocks today but many displayed a preference for the cashing of profits and the result was irregularity.

Trends, fairly steady at the start, slipped here and there as the session proceeded. Scattered rails, aviations, farm implements and specialties were in front near the fourth hour. Losers were numerous. Dealings quickened at intervals.

Former Red Bird Shot In Battle in Germany

COLUMBUS, May 4—(AP)—John Grodzicki big righthanded pitcher who paced the Columbus Red Birds to an American Association pennant in 1941, was shot in the leg while serving with a paratrooper division in Germany. Grodzicki wrote to a Columbus sports writer from a hospital in England.

JAMES ORR IS BADLY MANGLED BY D. T. & I. TRAIN

Meets Death Instantly on Trestle Over Paint Creek Here

James Orr, 28, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Orr, was instantly killed by a D. T. and I. freight train while walking the D. T. and I. trestle over Paint Creek back of the Fayette Canning plant at 1:30 A. M. Friday.

Orr was on his way home from up-town when the freight engine, with caboose back of the engine, backed from the south and caught him about midway on the trestle. His body was carried 50 feet or more, and left, badly mangled, on the tracks.

His left leg was severed at the ankle, his right leg below the thigh; his head was crushed and other injuries inflicted by the trucks of the caboose and engine.

Orr had been in the habit of walking the trestle to and from home, it seems, and had been making his home with his brother, Frank, on High Street.

The engine crew notified the police, and when efforts to obtain the coroner and justice of the peace failed, Chief of Police Vaiden Long notified Sheriff Orland Hays, and after the two officers investigated, Orr's body was taken in charge by the Klever Funeral Home and prepared for burial.

Orr was employed by the Pure Oil Co., and prior to that had been employed by the B. and O. Railroad. He had also worked at other jobs.

Surviving are his five-year-old daughter, Eleanor; eight brothers and a sister: John, Frank, Robert, Russell, Ralph and Earl, of Washington C. H.; William, in the U. S. Navy; Richard, Atlanta, and Mrs. Henry Flattery, Miami, Fla.

A brother, Pfc. Leonard Orr was killed in battle in France December 30, 1944.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 10:30 A. M. at Klever Funeral Home, and burial made in the Washington C. H. cemetery.

FIELD DAY OFF BECAUSE OF COLD

School Is Dismissed Early for Circus Anyway

The field day scheduled at Gardner Park Friday was called off because of dampness and cold, A. B. Murray, superintendent of city schools, said.

The fourth, fifth and sixth grade day of athletic events will be re-scheduled later, Murray said, but because of the unpredictable weather, he did not set a tentative date.

School was dismissed at 2:30 P. M. as scheduled, however, so the high school and elementary students could take advantage of the school children's identification tickets for the circus, which were distributed by the school Thursday.

FIRE DEPARTMENT IS GIVEN BOUQUET

Farm Bureau Council Grateful For Protection

Gratitude to the city fire department for response to two rural fires was recorded at a meeting of Union Township Farm Bureau Council I at the home of Miss Blanche Roberts.

Edgar Coil, discussion leader, introduced Lowell Kaufman who reviewed the recent Farm Bureau council leaders conference. Results of an agricultural poll were sent to the state office for use in the Advisory Council Digest.

Mrs. Elva McCoy, Miss Pauline Kaufman and Miss Opal Conaway assisted in serving refreshments after the meeting. The next session of the council will be with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Coil.

$400,000 GOAL FOR TWO WEEKS SET FOR BONDS

Volunteer Workers Needed as Bi-weekly Reports Are Planned

Setting a $400,000 goal for the first two weeks of the $749,000 Seventh War Loan Drive, township and ward chairmen of the War Finance Committee, with Carroll Halliday, general chairman, Thursday night made skeleton plans for their selling plans and set out to fill the blank spaces in a longer than ever list of canvassers needed.

The group felt that it may have overlooked people who were willing to sell bonds in past drives and invited anyone who wanted to volunteer as a worker to call their ward or township chairman to be given supplies.

At least 500 workers will be needed to cover the county and city adequately, it was agreed.

A bi-weekly report of bond selling progress from May 14 to June 1 is to be made to the chairmen, it was decided. Comparable ratings of wards and townships can be compiled from the reports and the progress of the drive towards its $400,000 goal in two weeks can be kept at the fingertips of the committee.

The $749,000 quota for individual bond purchases only is 35 percent higher than for any previous drives. For that reason, more and more workers are needed to put the county over the top in record time.

9 WHS MUSICIANS IN STATE CONTEST

Janice Murray, Soloist; Triple Trio Competes

Nine girls from Washington C. H. high school today competed with students from other high schools in this district in an Ohio Music Education Association contest in Columbus.

Janice Murray sang Lalo's "L'esclave" in the soprano competition.

The triple trio, which is familiar to Washingtonians, sang in the girls' ensemble contest. Triple trio members are: June Cook, Virginia Mark, Nancy Devins, Janice Murray, Joan Kellough, Lucille Stambaugh, Doris Brandenburg, Janice Fogle and Lora Lee Enslen. All are directed by Miss Mary Elizabeth Browning. The accompanist is eighth grader, Roberta Sexton.

A limit of six minutes performing time was set for each number. A copy of the solo or ensemble music was placed in the hands of the judges to be used as the contestant sang.

SABINA GIRL WINS YOUTH SCHOLARSHIP

Miss Avonelle Brown, 1944 Sabina High School graduate and a student at Wilmington College, has been awarded a two weeks scholarship to the American Youth Foundation Leadership Training Camp this summer, it was learned today.

Selected on the basis of scholarship, physical fitness, leadership talents and religious interest, Miss Brown was named by the faculty-student committee of the college and by the Danforth Foundation in St. Louis, Mo.

She is a member of the Aeolian Girls' Choir, society editor of the "Quaker Quips," college publication, and a member of Delta Omega Theta Sorority.

1,100 STUDENTS HEAR BAND PLAY IN AUDITORIUM

Special Concert Prepared for Grade Schoolers by WHS Orchestra

The 1,100 grade students from the city's five elementary schools got more than a bang-up good band concert when William B. Clift and the high school band had a special performance for them in the high school auditorium—they learned something about the instruments themselves and the music to which they listened.

Clift explained each number before it was played, telling the audience of children from kindergarten age to the sixth grade what to listen for. Then, he explained the instruments and had the group identify each piece.

Stephen C. Brown, high school principal, welcomed the grade schoolers before the concert began. A. B. Murray, superintendent of city schools, also spoke briefly.

The program, consisting of excerpts from the public band concert, was: "E Pluribus Unum," "Argentina," United Nations," "Gallant Marines," Something About a Soldier," "Thunderer March," "Song of India," "Boogie Woogie Broccoli," "Hosts of Freedom," "The Star Spangled Banner" and a saxophone solo, "Pepperino" by Joe Cullen.

NEW POST IS TAKEN BY ART BOSTWICK

As AP Reporter, He Covered Early Days of Collett Case

Arthur S. Bostwick, the Associated Press reporter, one of the corps of out-of-town newsmen who covered the first phase of the McCoy murder case here, has been made director of public relations and promotion for Central Greyhounds Lines, Inc., and Pennsylvania Greyhound Lines, Inc.

Bostwick filed some of the best-written stories during the days before Collett's arrest. He wrote an account of the ride to Toledo for the lie detector test and was the man to whom Collett referred at his trial as "that drunken reporter," who was his companion on the long night drive.

At that time, Bostwick was on the staff of the Columbus bureau of the AP. A short time later he was promoted to bureau chief at Cleveland. It was from this position that he resigned to become associated with the bus line operating companies.

WRITSEL PRESIDENT OF P-TA AT MARION

Canning Program Set Up for Lunch Room

Alvin Writsel today is president of the Marion P-TA after an election of officers held at the group's last meeting for this year Thursday night.

Other officer named were Mrs. Harold Pope, vice president; Mrs. Charles Crone, secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Loren Reif, press reporter.

A canning committee—Mrs. Seymour Campbell, chairman, Mrs. Harold Ivers, Mrs. Preston Dray and Mrs. J. A. McLain—was named to coordinate the school lunchroom canning program this summer. No goals were set as yet as crop estimates cannot be made.

A dinner on the last day of school will be in charge of Mrs. Alvin Writsel, Mrs. Wayne McArthur, Mrs. John Robinson and Mrs. Earl Allison. Alvin Writsel and Harold Ivers are to be in charge of an ice cream treat.

Betsy Briggs of New Holland sang three solos, Mrs. Noah Daniels gave two readings and William Fent played mandolin solos for the program. Pie and coffee were served after the meeting.

In the fourth and fifth centuries the ecclesiastical title "Pope" was used by bishops as well as the head of the Roman Catholic church.

DAMAGE SUITS TOTAL $50,000

Washington C. H. and New Holland Men Sued

Two suits, each asking $25,000, were filed in the Pickaway Common Pleas Court, Thursday, against McKinley Kirk of Washington C. H. and William Helsel, New Holland, as the outgrowth of a traffic accident.

The plaintiffs in the two suits are John Moon and Pete Seyfang, both of New Holland, who claim damages for injuries sustained on Route 22, January 22, 1944, about 100 yards east of New Holland.

Plaintiffs claim the two defendants operated a truck which struck them.

Seyfang claims that he was thrown into a ditch by the truck. He claims he was injured so badly that he can never work again. A broken back, crushed leg and other injuries kept him in a hospital four months and resulted in surgical and medical expense of $3,000, he states.

Moon claims that he was also struck by the same truck and knocked down, sustaining a fractured pelvic bone, skull fracture, and was unable to work for six months. He claims he is now able to work only part of the time and that hospitalization cost him $675.

BURNS RESULT IN DEATH OF JESSIE DAVIS

Sustained While Starting Fire In Stove With Kerosene

Mrs. Jessie Holdren Davis, 32, who was seriously burned while starting a fire with a can of kerosene at her home on Campbell Street, early Tuesday morning, died in University Hospital, Columbus, Thursday at 2 P. M.

Mrs. Davis is survived by four children: Donald, Paul, Wilmah, and Shirla; four sisters, Mrs. James Willoughby, Madison County, Mrs. Benjamin Smith, Darbyville, Mrs. Albert Smith, Big Run, Franklin County; Mrs. James Cory, Madison County; three brothers, Walter Howard, Detroit; Willard Howard, Columbus and Sgt. Paul Howard, in the armed service overseas.

Her body was brought to the Cox and Parrett Funeral Home on Market Street, where services will be held Saturday at 2 P. M., and burial will be made in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

At the request of the family the casket will not be opened.

Mrs. Davis was fatally burned when the exploding can of kerosene hurled the burning fluid over her and most of her clothing was burned off.

Donald, her 12-year-old son was burned severely while trying to smother the flames and one or two neighbor women sustained painful burns while extinguishing the flaming clothing.

The five-gallon can, with bottom blown out, is in possession of Fire Chief George Hall and the can and crumpled bottom are identical to a can used when a mother and two small children were burned to death a few miles south of this city a year ago when kerosene was used to start a fire.

HELD FOR BURGLARY

SOUTH SALEM — Louis Hester, 25, is being held in the Ross County jail after pleading guilty on two charges of burglary. Bond was fixed at $1,000.

MOTHER'S DAY THEME OF GRANGE PROGRAM

Time Again Brought Up by Principal Speaker

Expressing a belief that the bill now up in the Ohio legislature making slow time the legal time for Ohio would be passed, Loren Hynes, county Grange deputy, spoke at the Marshall Grange meeting Thursday night.

Mrs. Hynes, county home economics committee chairman, at the same meeting announced a house dress contest for the Pomona Grange meeting June 13 with the Forest Shade Grange in New Martinsburg. Mrs. W. E. Roberts, home economics chairman for the Marshall Grange, told of the soya roll contest for the Grange's next session on June 7 when Miss Margaret Watson, home demonstration agent, would speak on nutrition.

Seventeen candidates will be given Grange degrees at a special potluck supper meeting on May 24. The refreshment committee for the June meeting is Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Heironimus and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Whiteside.

Charles Graham, Chester Janes and W. E. Roberts were named on a committee to repair the Grange kitchen.

Miss Grace Wade, lecturer, presented Don Scholl, an Allis Chalmers tractor company representative, who showed three movies, "The Alaskan Highway," "After the Storm" and "The Pan American Highway."

Using a Mothers' Day theme for the rest of the lecture hour, Miss Wade read a poem, "Mother O' Mine;" Fred Barker read "A Boy's Mother;" Glenn Whiteside, "When Pa Is Sick" and Nelson Kelley, "When Ma Is Sick." Nelson Kelley.

Stains tend to become set with age, so stained garments should not be put away until cleaned.
